Craig Waksler

MEMBER
BOARD OF DIRECTORS
CHAIR, TECHNOLOGY COMMITTEE
CO-CHAIR, MASS TORT LITIGATION

Craig Waksler concentrates his practice primarily on the defense of asbestos and mass tort litigation matters and the defense of personal injury and property damage cases. He represents a large number of asbestos defendants in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, though he also represents companies throughout the United States that range from Fortune 500 manufacturing companies to small supply houses that manufacture/sell fluid sealing products, pumps, valves, boilers, water heaters, construction products, electrical products, brakes, engines, and marine products.

Craig also maintains an active insurance coverage practice, in which he has over 25 years of experience providing the country's leading insurance companies with coverage advice. Also, he represents carriers in coverage litigation and bad faith matters. Moreover, he routinely represents clients/insureds in consumer protection, product liability, premises liability, environmental pollution, dram shop, medical malpractice, and civil rights matters.

In addition, Craig represents several utility companies in regulatory hearings and enforcement actions, as well as licensure and compliance matters. He also devotes a portion of his practice to representing financial institutions and autonomous vehicle manufacturers.

Craig has represented clients in numerous courts throughout the country, including the U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota; U.S. District Court for the District of New Hampshire; U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey; U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania; and U.S. District Court for the District of Utah. He has also appeared before state courts in Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Utah.
