Jay Julien

ASSOCIATE

Jay Julien focuses his practice on transportation matters including aviation and airport law and also provides counseling to municipalities including federal grant research and writing.

Jay advises aviation clients in a wide variety of regulatory and business matters. Jay assists small, medium, and large airlines and a broad range of aviation and transportation industry clients on regulatory and compliance issues before DOT, FAA, TSA, CBP, and USDA. Jay also assists emerging airlines with the start-up of U.S. service and advises clients in drafting and updating codeshare and interline agreements, as well as their conditions of carriage and tariff. Jay has experience navigating airline user fee audits and advising clients on minimizing enforcement risks. Jay is also involved in the Infrastructure Practice Group where he is heavily involved in federal/state grant research and writing.

At the Howard University School of Law, Jay completed an externship at the Securities and Exchange Commission as a Student Honors Intern in the EDGAR Business Office. Jay has extensive experience in full lifecycle legal and IT recruiting, granting him insight into various industries including pharmaceutical development, telecommunications, supply chain logistics, food science, as well providing him with a deep understanding of internal corporate structures. Prior to attending law school, Jay worked as a paralegal for the New York Law Department where he provided support for civil litigation cases in federal district court.
