Alexis A. George

ASSOCIATE

Alexis George counsels businesses in the aviation and aerospace industry on a wide range of regulatory topics. Her focus areas include U.S. Department of Transportation compliance and investigations and aviation policy developments. Alexis also assists airlines and aerospace companies with intellectual property matters specifically related to U.S. trademark and copyright law.

Prior to law school, Alexis served as a deputy scheduler for the Office of Governor Terry R. McAuliffe, where she prepared high-level event and meeting briefings and handled appearance and meeting requests for the Governor. As an undergrad, she also served as an intern for Virginia General Assembly Delegate David Bulova, during which time she followed legislative bills, researched policy issues, and attended sessions and meetings.
